

Understand, these colors won't run, the red stands for the resolve of American protectors, both male and female, to give their life's blood, even their lives, in defense of our nation, the white is our purity of intent, for we are not perfect, the blue denotes that the sky doesn't limit our ability to gain freedom for all mankind.

Seasons come and go, there are good times and there are times of duress, when we are wrong, we shall endeavor to right that wrong, we acknowledge that man is not infallible, thus we are prone to make mistakes, so we, as a nation, pledge to honor our fallen heroes by striving to right all wrongs in Jesus' name,.

Almighty God, Creator of heaven and earth, we humbly ask of Thee to preserve our nation's liberty with Thy healing grace, infill our brothers in arms with courage rooted in Thy saving grace, aid us to remain true to Thee, fill us with Thy redeeming grace so that all our deeds are always pleasing to Thee.
