

We are faced with the dilemma that only a democratic republic is privy to.
How we react to this dilemma affects the outcome of the next four years.
Our problem is this, what do we do when faced with a choice that is no real choice?

In fact, we must note no one is capable of correcting earthly faults without God.

So, in order to get the best humanly possible results, first, we must pray.

Glorify God in all that you expect to accomplish, let His Will guide you.

Our Heavenly Father has ultimate authority over all things, yield it to Him.

Deny temptation's plans by accepting God's sovereignty in your heart and life

Spend time in prayer, study God's Word and each candidate's political agenda.

Canvas your area, understand the needs of your community, then in prayer - vote.

Acept the fact that man's abilities are vastly shorter than God's, cast your ballot.

Note, nothing can come to fruition without God's Will, cast your ballot.

Determine who will do the least damage and the most good for our nation - vote.

Include, if possible, the spiritual status of the candidate's service as the tiebreaker.

Determine, for yourself, who will do the least damage when casting your vote.

All plans of consequence are under God's ultimate control, not man's fleeting power.

The candidate, when elected, is allowed office by God's ultimate plan, not man's.

Elected, he/she may have earthly power, but that power is actually limited in scope.
